THE "BISHOPS' BLOW" TO BRITAIN.

CONDONING AND CONDEMNING.

COMMENT ON LAMBETH CONFERENCE RECOMMENDATIONS.

The views expressed at the recent Lambeth Conference of Anglican Bishops have naturally provoked fierce controversy in and out of the pulpits. "The Bishop's Blow to the Homes of England" is how Mr. James Douglas heads an article in the London Express, declaring that the Lambeth Conference has paved the way for race-suicide. Other extracts from this article follow:—

"The Lambeth Conference of more than three hundred bishops recommends that the marriage of one whose former partner is still living should not be celebrated according to the rites of the Church. This resolution reveals the fact that the Church is out of touch with truth and with reality and with the human conscience. It denies the rites of marriage to the innocent as well as to the guilty. The ecclesiastical veto violates the conscience of the Christian wife or husband which is convinced of its own complete innocence. It imposes a theological dogma on faith which is contrary to reason and common sense. It forces the individual conscience into revolt against a clerical fiat which is intolerably hard and harsh."

A Cowardly Compromise.

It is true that the Church allows a loophole for the innocent person. "Where an innocent person has remained under civil sanction and desires to receive the Holy Communion," the Conference recommends that "the case should be referred for consideration to the Bishop, subject to provincial regulations." "This is a miserable subterfuge and cowardly compromise. It throws the onus on the Bishop, who in one diocese may be lax and lenient, and in another strict and stern."

"It is strange that, while the Conference is rigidly medieval in its attitude to divorce, it is loose and lax in its attitude to the far more dangerous problem of birth control. "The Church has given an inch and human nature will take an ell. The State will find it hard to cater for Christian birth-controllers on the one hand and to regulate the advertisement and sale of contraceptives for unbelievers on the other."

A Fatal Blow.

"One thing is certain. The limited acceptance of birth-control by the Church will lead to the unlimited practice of it by the millions outside the Church."

The effect on the race as a whole will be disastrous. There will be smaller families. There will be more childless parents. Breeding from the best stocks will be checked, and breeding from the worst stocks will continue.

"The Conference deprecates the advertisement of contraceptives, but it has given them the best advertisement they have ever enjoyed. And we may be sure that the boom it has given to their use among the married will enormously increase their use among the unmarried."

"Lambeth has delivered a fatal blow to marriage, to motherhood, to fatherhood, to the family, and to morality. It has paved the way to race suicide."

ANGLICAN COMMENT.

Canon Lewis Donaldson described the "Bishops' proclamation as being one of the highest, if not the highest, delivered since the Reformation. Preaching at the morning service at Westminster Abbey, Canon Donaldson said that it was in the faith that the Church was indestructible and essential to our good that the Bishops had issued their proclamation to the world. "It is a noble statement, which will enhance their moral, spiritual, and social influence throughout the world," he added. "It will constitute a splendid text-book for Christian teachers, and religious workers who have been looking to Lambeth for vision and for counsel will find both in the Bishops' announcement."

"Sex a Holy Thing."

"The Bishops have bravely faced the burning question of birth control and the complex nature of the problems involved, and have limited their approval. They start with a solemn reservation and insist upon a high moral standard by both sexes alike. They also condemn our neglect—our horrible neglect, should I say?—of sex education for our children, and emphasise the truth that sex is a holy thing which ought to be lifted out of the mire in which we have allowed it for generations to lie."

The Bishops also made a noble stand for the subject races of the world which would have great political results, and their declaration against war and for arbitration would touch the heart of every earnest Christian. The Bishops had transformed their reputation as "statesmen but not leaders." They had now shown themselves to be both, and would be so regarded for years to come.

Rector's "Solenn Repudiation." At the City of London church of St. Magnus the Martyr the following statement sent by the Rev. H. J. Fynes-Clinton, the rector, who was away, was read to the congregation from the pulpit:—

The Rector desires to express publicly and solemnly his abhorrence and entire repudiation of and dissociation from the lamentable sanction given in certain circumstances by the Bishops in the Lambeth Conference to the deadly sin of contraception.

A Dubious Bishop.

In the course of an article contributed to the Sunday Times the Bishop of Norwich, K.C.V.O., takes his seat on the fence in the following manner:—

The report on the Witness of the Christian Community deals with the race question, now presenting insistent difficulties in many parts of the world and of the British Empire. It discusses the issues of peace and war, tribunals of arbitration, and the force that Christian public opinion should exercise on Governments. But the part of this report, indeed of the whole Conference, which will gain most attention inside and outside Church circles is the portion which deals with marriage, and especially with so-called birth-control. Here the Bishops as a body have gone further than they went ten years ago. The crucial resolution published in this case, with the numbers voting, marks a considerable cleavage of opinion. It is to be expected that what the Conference has said will lead to much discussion, in which some will argue that the majority has surrendered the good name of the Church, others that the Bishops have not gone far enough to help consciences in doubt.

"So ends the Lambeth Conference. Was it worth while to hold it? The answer cannot be doubtful in the minds of those who will carefully read the reports and consider the resolutions. In places the Bishops may have been academic in their utterances. Yet they may justly claim to have come near the realities of the hour, and there are many who will feel sure that, in the words of the old prayer, 'God, who did teach the hearts of His faithful people, by the sending to them the light of His Holy Spirit,' does not now turn a deaf ear to those from uttering a stark prohibition who ask that they, too, may have 'a right judgment' among the changes, the perplexities, and the opportunities of our times."

Dr. Lyttelton's Views.

Dr. Edward Lyttelton, who, with Mr. J. L. Hodson, conducted a symposium on birth control in this journal, under the title of "The World of the Unborn," set out his views on the Lambeth Conference report as follows:—

"It is to be hoped that the public will study the actual words of the paragraph issued from Lambeth on this question."

"The Bishops have refrained from uttering a stark prohibition against contraception in every imaginable case; neither do they attempt to indicate where the line should be drawn. But they are unanimous in believing that nothing short of necessity can justify the practice."

"There are many who hold that the cases of necessity are so few as to be practically negligible."

"So the Bishops have reminded us that ultimately it is a matter of conscience. That is not the same thing as a matter of self-indulgence or prudence. That is the meaning of the method must be decided on Christian principles."

"I should have preferred the phrase approved by the Norwich Diocesan Congress, to the effect that those who use artificial means for the prevention of birth, are left to the judgment of God. The two clauses, however, mean the same thing."

A FREE CHURCH CRITIC.

Dr. J. C. Carlile, a former president of the Baptist Union, referring at Folkestone to the Lambeth Conference report, said that the suggestion that the schemes for South India might become a basis of home union was hopeless. "So far as we are concerned," he said, "the next word is from Lambeth and not from the Church House. The South Indian scheme will not be accepted as a basis of negotiations." Free Churchmen, who represent the Free Churches are not asking for a federation of different communities. They will not accept the position that only episcopal ordination confers the right and grace to minister in the church. There is a vital principle involved in that contention and there must not be betrayal.

Referring to the birth control pronouncement, Dr. Carlile asked if it was necessary for the Bishops to make a pronouncement upon the very questionable and limited practice of birth control. If so, why was the resolution framed so ambiguously that it could be understood in contradictory senses according to individual discretion?

A ROMAN CATHOLIC PROTEST.

A strong protest against the Lambeth Conference resolution on birth control and contraception was made by Father Woodcock, S.J., preaching at Farm Street Church, London. Father Woodcock said that the doctrine of the Catholic Church was clearly expounded in a pastoral letter by the Roman Catholic Bishops of Scotland three years ago in which they described birth control as "intrinsically evil," "inexcusable before God," and "morally sinful." "Self-control," and "continence," said Father Woodcock, "are the only means recognised by the Catholic Church as lawful for the limitation of families. When the Anglican Bishops say that contraceptive devices may be used provided it is done in the light of Christian principles they propose an impossible solution."

He declared that many a case of motherhood without marriage might well be a lesser sin in the eyes of God than those cases of marriage without motherhood where motherhood is being avoided by the deliberate use of contraceptives. "The modern world generally, and now the Anglican episcopate by a vote of 183 to 67 in particular cases, approve the greater sin. The stone of shame and ignominy is kept for the unmarried mother."

EXPERIMENT ON A CAT.

MANCHESTER MAN'S DESCRIPTION.

PROTEST BY ANTI-VIVISECTIONISTS.

A remarkable operation on a cat was described at the Pharmaceutical Conference at Cardiff last month.

In a lecture, Dr. A. D. MacDonald, of Manchester University, said that the cat was given ether and then the external jugular veins were ligated, the nerves on either side of the neck were dissected and severed, the brain was killed and the skin at the top of the neck was removed.

The operation has roused animal lovers in Cardiff to strongly protest, but women pharmacists at the conference take the view that such operations are necessary. "As scientists we cannot object to operations of this kind being carried out," said Mrs. Freke, a member of the Pharmaceutical Society, to a reporter. "They are essential if we are to learn anything about the action of drugs."

This view was echoed by other women pharmacists, but Miss Rose Beaven, secretary to the local branch of the Anti-vivisection Society, told a reporter that the Society would raise strong protests against the kind of operation which was described in the lecture. "We cannot believe that this operation did any good," she said.

A New Face Powder.

The story of the discovery of a new face powder was told by Mr. N. Ingram, Hendey, a young retail chemist. He said that in the course of experiments on a substance known as distomaceous earth, hitherto only used by chemists for filtration purposes, it had been found that it possessed properties which made it ideal as a face powder. "This earth," he said, "is a fine peaty deposit which is quarried in large quantities in nearly every country in the world. The deposit is left by sea or fresh water."

Mr. Hendey added that the use of this earth as a face powder had met with opposition and antagonism in many quarters, but so far its use had been accompanied by success. The earth had the advantage over the usual forms of starch or rice powder, which was the basis of all good face powders, that when it was applied to the skin it did not swell when in contact with the natural moisture of the skin. Consequently it did not extend the pores, although it covered them quite adequately. The earth was also useful as a fertilizer, as a base for disinfectant, for a nail polish and for a dentifrice.

TARIFFS AND DANGER OF CORRUPTION.

REPORTED AMERICAN OFFER OF $10,000 BRIBE.

A serious charge has been made against a group of high tariff advocates by a witness before the United States Senate Committee that is investigating expenditures in political campaigns. The charge is that members of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association, which advocates an extremely high tariff, offered $10,000 as a contribution to the campaign expenses of Senator Thomas D. Schall, of Minnesota, if he would cease his attacks on Senator Grundy, of Pennsylvania, in regard to the recent Tariff Bill. It is indicated that the offer was declined.

Senator Nye, of North Dakota, chairman of the Committee, will invite Senator Schall to testify to the truth or falsity of the statement.

BABY KIDNAPPED.

HUE AND CRY IN LONDON.

Mrs. Violet Pither, of Upper Westbourne-terrace, Paddington, entered a shop in Edgware-road last month, leaving her three-weeks-old son in his perambulator. She returned a few minutes later to find the pram empty.

The police think that the kidnapping may have been the work of a childless woman, who saw the unattended baby, admired it, and could not resist a sudden impulse to carry it off.

When she discovered her loss Mrs. Pither, the wife of a railway employee, collapsed in the street.

The baby, who has brown hair and blue eyes, was dressed in a long white gown, white woollen shawl, white bonnet and veil.

The possibility that the baby might have been taken by someone in a car was raised by Mrs. Pither, who told a reporter that a motor-car which drew up on the other side of the road at the moment she entered the shop had gone when she returned.

SINGULAR POSITION OF POLICE.

JUDGE ON EFFECTS OF SAVIDGE CASE.

An action for damages against two Birmingham detectives for alleged false imprisonment and assault was concluded at Birmingham Assizes recently. They were Sergeant Frederick Harris and Constable George Lintern, and the plaintiffs were John Pagett (62), a retired licensed victualler, of Small Heath, and his nephew George Ernest Pagett, painter and decorator, of Ridley.

The jury found for the plaintiffs, awarding £50 damages on the issue of false imprisonment and one farthing each for assault. Mr. Justice McCardie reserved his decision as to costs for what he described as "contemptuous" damages on the assault issue.

In evidence, the defendants denied assaulting the plaintiffs, and declared that the plaintiffs went to the police station of their own free will.

Mr. Justice McCardie, summing up, said the police of this country had to fulfil most delicate, most responsible, and most important duties. The security of the public depended upon the efficiency and vigour with which the people performed their duties. That was a vital consideration in considering the case, but there was the perhaps equally important consideration that the police possessed great powers as well as great responsibilities, and ought not to exercise the powers of arrest without adequate cause. The jury would therefore see that on the broad considerations of the case they had always to reconcile the prompt and the able fulfilment of their duties by the police with the rights of personal freedom that they all valued.

After commenting on the serious conflict of evidence as to the visit of the plaintiffs to the police station by compulsion or voluntarily, the Judge said Counsel had alluded to silver-toned and kid-glove detectives.

He recalled the report and the enormous discussion on the Savidge case. The police, he said, were placed now in a very singular position with regard to putting questions to people who were suspected of crime, and it might well be that the effect of that report might have altered substantially the demeanour of detectives.

NEVER MARRY AN ATHLETE.

WHAT A WIFE SAYS.

Girls would do well to think twice before marrying an athlete. By athlete I mean a man whose life is so entirely devoted to sport that he has little time for intellectual pursuits.

For the hard truth is that this all-absorbing passion for games, so prevalent nowadays, leaves a man undeveloped mentally. At the age of forty the broad-shouldered hero who was interesting as a youth possesses the mind of a schoolboy.

Readers might retort: "Quite so;
and a husband like a schoolboy must be a charming fellow."

Well, in many ways that is true.
His experience of outdoor games has taught him the great art of giving and taking; and it must be admitted that he introduces a fine spirit of sportsmanship in his daily life; for which I praise him with all my heart.

But he lacks that something, that fulness of mind which most women feel they need in a husband. He falls as a spiritual and intellectual companion; and for that reason he and his wife are likely to be poles apart.

In fact, I say openly that I live in mental loneliness. Somehow I feel spiritually isolated.

Moreover, the true athlete can seldom pass an hour or two by himself; he feels lost, for he has always depended on games for his entertainment. He knows little, or nothing, of the rich treasures of literature. His reading is usually confined to the lightest fiction, and, perhaps, to the biographies of famous athletes.

Of course, he reads the daily papers. It is a sight worth seeing.
The gravity with which he devours every column of sporting news would be laughable were it not a trifle irritating. To him international affairs mean nothing. A fallen wicket will keep him awake at night. But he scores blissfully while governments are overthrown, or nations are planning one another's downfall.

Another point is that he is distinctly weak as a conversationalist.
He sits like a dummy while others do the talking. But when someone inadvertently mentions Hobbs or Bradman, he begins talking, and cannot be silenced. Guests move uneasily in their seats and look towards their hats.

Perhaps he does this intentionally. I wonder.

It seems to me that it would be a sound scheme if athletic men married only athletic women. For they would be able to indulge in violent games until the age of forty, say, and then with minds unscathed by learning, they could pass the evening of their lives talking delightfully of famous footballers, famous cricketers, tennis stars, and others
dear to their athletic hearts.

Still, the fact remains that my husband is a good sportsman.
After all, that is something, but nevertheless not quite enough.

THE SILVER SCREEN.

"FAST COMPANY."

"Fast Company" was on view
yesterday at the Central Theatre.
The story has to do with a "hush league" ball player, Jack Oakie, who plays baseball so well that he is signed by the Yankees. He leaves his home town and is plunged into the fast company of city-bred girls and big league players.
He becomes the tower of strength on the Yankees and they win the pennant. Then comes the World's series with Pittsburgh. With the deciding game to be played on the morning, a number of upsetting events project themselves into the pathway of success for Oakie. His girl turns him down, and gang of smart-gamblers make him their unwitting dupe. All seems dark when a very happy twist of fate saves the days for the boastful but lovable hero.

This picture is based on an original Ring Lardner story. Jack Oakie is what showmen call a "natural" comedian for the part he plays. He is a bragging, happy-go-lucky, likeable youth, and his comedy-cracks collect hundreds of laughs.

All the advantages of sound recording are brought into the production. You hear the fans yelling, the players razzing the other team,
the crack of bat on ball, and the American "slanguage" as she is spoke.

"CHILDREN OF PLEASURE."

How popular songs are manufactured is shown in detail in "Children of Pleasure," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's romance of "Song Row" in New York, which will open tomorrow at the Queen's Theatre.
Lawrence Gray, in the title role,
shows the audience how the trick is done and the making of a song hit from idea to stage presentation is revealed in a tense, dramatic story.

Harry Beaumont, who filmed
"The Broadway Melody," directed the picture with Wynne Gibson, Helen Johnson, Benny Rubin, May Boley, Lee Kohlmar, Kenneth Thomson and others in a big cast. Brilliant song hits and ballet numbers are included.

"RIO RITA."

The voice that has been the talk of Hollywood this season will be heard from the screen of the Central Theatre next week. It belongs to Bebe Daniels and will be heard singing the songs of "Rio Rita,"
the radio picture operetta sensation.

In all the revolutions and surprises talking pictures have brought into the film industry, nothing has created more of sensation than the "discovery" of the remarkable singing voice possessed by this favourite of the silent screen.

Opposite Bebe in the film version of Flo Ziegfeld's most famous musical show will be seen John Boles, erstwhile favourite of the musical comedy stage, and the tenor most in demand in talking pictures.

The cast which has transferred the Broadway hit to the sound screen is a large one and includes many favourites of both stage and screen. Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey will be seen in the comedy roles they created in the stage version of "Rio Rita." Dorothy Lee, the baby-talk comedienne of "Syncopeation"; Helen Kaiser, one of Ziegfeld's "glorified" girls;
Georges Banavent, French stage star; Don Alvarado and Nick de Ruiz, former tenor of the Metropolitan Grand Opera Company, are others in the large featured cast.

Much of the film was photographed in technicolor. The sets and costumes which dress this romantic operetta of the Rio Grande country are the most sumptuous yet seen on the sound screen.

It is announced from authoritative sources at Teheran that peace has been established in the region of Chiraz and that there is less anxiety in official circles with regard to the tribes whose intention remain doubtful. Furthermore, two of the rebel tribes have offered their submission.

ARCTIC EXPLORERS' CAMP FOUND.

DISCOVERY OF FRAENKEL'S REMAINS.

DEATHS BELIEVED DUE TO CATASTROPHE.

Tromsø, Sept. 7.—The Swedish cruiser, Svenskaund, arrived here to-day to take over the remains of
Dr. Andree and his companion Strindberg but will probably not return to Stockholm immediately as meanwhile the skeleton of the third member of the ill fated expedition, Fraenkel, has been found on White Island by a Swedish expedition which was equipped and sent out by the Stockholm paper
Dagens Nyheter on board the whaler Isbjorn. A wireless message from the whaler states that the searchers have found Andree's camp with important documents, farwell letters, guns, parts of the balloon's car etc. besides a human skeleton which is believed to be that of Fraenkel who succumbed first to the hardships of the Polar winter. The Isbjorn is not expected here before the middle of next week but the cruiser Svens-kaund will probably await her arrival to take the three bodies home together for state-burial.

Doubt as to Reports.

Stockholm, Sept. 8.—A very violent controversy has arisen over the wireless reports of new and very important finds in Dr. And-ree's camp on White Island made by the newspaper expedition from the whaler Isbjorn. If confirmed, the report would confute all versions of the fate of the Andree expedition hitherto circulated such as that Andree and his companions made a long track over the ice and that Fraenkel perished en route from the place where the balloon descended to where the remains of Andree and Strindberg were found by Dr. Gunnar Horn.

The report from the Isbjorn states that besides the skeleton of Fraenkel the expedition found parts of the balloon's car and a large quantity of baggage which it would not only have been impossible but also unnecessary to transport across the ice. Thus it is declared that the balloon must have descended near the camp in which case the alleged elaborate stories of the diary and logbook describing the track across the frozen waste were a hoax or that the latter description must be applied to the message from the Isbjorn.

A third theory to the effect that the Isbjorn searches hit upon the remains of the ill fated airship
Italia is not generally held tenable.
In any case it will be necessary to await the return of the Isbjorn and the thorough investigation of all that has been found by the responsible experts appointed by the Swedish Government.

FRANCE'S DESIRE FOR PEACE.

STRIKING SPEECH BY M. MAGINOT.

Meaux, Sept. 7.—The celebrations on the occasion of the anniversary of the victory of the Marne have given place to important demonstrations at which the principal members of the French Cabinet have taken occasion to deliver outstanding speeches.
M. Maginot, in particular, who is Minister of War, a gravely wounded former soldier, exalted the sacrifice of the soldiers of the Marne and the importance of the French losses which took place on that occasion.

The Minister, who is an intimate friend of M. Poincare, and one of the leaders of the patriotic group, added that the cruel fortune of 1914 should be a lesson for France.
"We should know," he said,
"that national defence is not a matter for improvisation, but a permanent duty. Since the war, France has made countless gestures in order to secure rapprochement with the nations which the war had ranged one against the other. A portion of public opinion looks upon certain of these gestures as useless sacrifices, and adds that they serve only to awaken new pretensions. Is it possible to think that such a mentality serves the cause of peace? If we do not totally associate ourselves with the policy of the reconciliation of peoples, we commit the same error as those who consistently think that the matter can be regulated by European treat-ties. Both run the risk of again setting light to the conflagration which all well-thinking people are doing their best to prevent."

This speech, in which the preoccupations of national defence are associated with a desire for the amelioration of European relations, has caused a sensation all the greater because it was delivered on the eve of the Assembly at Geneva.

AMERICAN POLITICS.

REVERSE FOR MRS
MCCORMICK.

[UNITED PRESS.]

Chicago, Sept. 7.—Officials of the Anti-Saloon League of America here revealed to-day that they have deserted Mrs. Ruth Hanna. McCormick, Republican Senatorial nominee, and that they have thrown their support to Lottic O'Neill, independent, "dry."

Mrs. McCormick recently agreed to abide by the result of a referendum on the liquor question which is to take place in Illinois as result of circulation of a petition, largely in Cook County, which includes Chicago.

The Anti-Saloon League, with much of its strength in the arid down-state "Little Egypt" region of Illinois, resented this departure from a strictly bone-dry platform and decided to shift to the prohibition candidate in spite of the fact that Mrs. McCormick and her Democratic rival, Senator James Hamilton Lewis, have the election sewed up between them.

FEELS YOUNGER

No more Sleeplessness, Dizziness or Nervous Exhaustion

PHOSFERINE

did a world of good . . . better in 3 days . . . wonderfully energising . . .

"MY thanks to you for the benefit I have derived from taking your Phosferine tablets. I have been a victim of nervous exhaustion and sleeplessness for years. I have tried all sorts of remedies, but all have failed and by chance I took to Phosferine tablets, and the energizing effect has been wonderful. I feel ever so much better in about three days (I could not sleep and I kept feeling dizzy) and I sleep well now and the dizziness has quite left me. Phosferine tablets did me a world of good and they keep me free from bodily disorders and give me a good appetite for meals. Although I am 73 Phosferine tablets have made me feel years younger. My general health is better than for years. Phosferine is the only tonic that has done me good; I shall always recommend it, as I should like people to have the same relief as I have had." Mrs. E. Wood, 38, Foundry Street, Oldham, England.

From the very first day you take PHOSFERINE you will gain new confidence, new life, new endurance. It makes you eat better, and sleep better, and you will look as fit as you feel. Phosferine is given with equally good results to the children.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

A big surprise was caused at Danzig when the Government of the Free State received a formal note of protest from Poland of considerable length and very solemn character about the fact that a Polish letter box in the Danzig territory was found slightly damaged by scratches.

An expert of the Soviet water power trust Energostroj has concluded his investigations concerning the possibility of erecting water power works on the river Jenissei. It was found that two power works can and probably will shortly be erected. It is announced that work on the Haifa-Baghdad railway will be immediately proceeded with and that the railway will be completed within five years.

A despatch to the London Daily Telegraph from New York states that Senator Allen Barclay has returned to Washington, after having toured to study political and economic conditions. He has declared that the United States should either lower the tariff walls, or wipe out the war debts. But Washington continues to be strongly opposed to any debt reduction or lowering of the tariffs.

According to a Buenos Aires message, Senator Alberto DeBary, President of the Order of the Olive Branch, an Argentine peace society, announces that awards are shortly to be made to Mr. Ramsay MacDonald and to Mr. Kellogg, former United States Secretary of State, on account of their work for peace. A similar award will also be given to the President of Paraguay.

While a plumber was removing a number of dust-covered boxes in premises at Lancaster so that he might be better able to do his work, he noticed that one of the boxes contained papers. A closer examination revealed that they were pound notes of an early issue, and amounted in value to over $100, having been apparently put on one side during the war. The owner of the premises, when acquainted with the find, rewarded the finder.

Remarking that the man's death was a puzzle, Mr. H. R. Oswald, the West London coroner, adjourned an inquest at Marylebone on Ernest Pollard, aged 40, employed at an hotel in Berners-street, W., for a further examination of the organs. The man was found dying in the porters' room at the hotel only a few minutes after reading paragraphs from "All Quiet on the Western Front" to fellow servants. He then appeared perfectly normal. No poison or drugs were found in the room. Dr. Winterton, of the Middlesex Hospital, said that nothing was found in the body to account for the man's death. All the organs appeared healthy.

Alas for Bonny Scotland!—the country is being subjected to even worse affronts than the spectacle of MacSamuel in kilts. The German army has adopted the sport of tossing the caber as part of its physical instruction course. There seems to be nothing left for the wild septs and clansmen to do but start a factory for Highland sausage and try and beat the German at one of his own industries. Or what about abandoning the reel and learning to yodel while performing a heroic Swiss Roll? Or, if these grasping Germans insist on stealing the Highland thunder, why not raid the traditions of the more English and revive the oldie Saxton sports of dashing the habar instead of tossing the caber?

At a meeting of the Governors of the Rhyol County School last month Mr. W. J. Rees commented on the practice of parents of candidates for entrance scholarships to the secondary schools employing school teachers to give evening tuition to their children. He agreed that they were powerless to deal with the matter, but considered it very unfair that the child of poorer parents should be so handicapped. It was the child whose parents could not afford to pay for extra tuition that was more in need of the free schooling. Tributes were paid to the head master (Mr. W. A. Lewis), who is retiring shortly after thirty-four years. His successor will be Mr. Thomas Torwerth Ellis, of Swansea, son of the late Mr. Tom Ellis.

Mr. Charles Heidsieck, of champagne fame, has died in his 75th year at Rheims. This splendid old man was one of the very few who remained in Rheims during the bombardment. He managed more or less to keep his business going even when the town was invested. In April, 1919, I visited Mr. Heidsieck in a little pink villa outside the town. He took me over his vineyards and explained the battlefields. He then showed me the vast subterranean cellars which he owns at Rheims, and the little dungeon where he himself had lived. He was a dear old man, and when I left him he gave me a case of his own champagne. We motored on to Verdon, and the roads were at that date still pitted with the pock-marks of war. Not a single bottle of Mr. Heidsieck's present reached Verdon unbroken.

NATIONAL RADIO EXHIBITION.

GREAT BRITAIN'S YOUNGEST INDUSTRY.

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

Rugby, Sept. 13.

When the National Radio Exhibition opens at Olympia, London, next Friday one of Britain's youngest but most prosperous industries will display its products.

The British wireless industry has no unemployed. It is growing with great rapidity. It provides work for over 1,000,000, and it represents £80,000,000 capital.

Since last year's Exhibition six big new factories for mass production of wireless sets have sprung up, and at Olympia 300 firms, all prosperous, are exhibiting products ranging from the smallest terminal to the biggest valve in the world and embodying the last word in the science of wireless.

Broadcasting in Britain continues to grow enormously, and there is a steady increase of 20,000 new wireless licence-holders each month. Seven years ago there were only 173,000 licences in force, whereas there are now 3,000,000.

ROMAN RISING SUN.

TESSELLATED FLOOR IN BRITAIN.

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

Rugby, Sept. 12.

One of the most beautiful Roman tessellated floors yet found in Britain has been discovered at St. Albans, Hertfordshire, on the site of Verulam, the first great Roman city in Britain.

The design represents the rising sun, and after 1,500 years the colours still remain bright, although the mortar between the small square stones has decayed. The floor was found under only two feet of earth.

AMERICAN HONOUR FOR PRIME MINISTER.

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

Rugby, Sept. 12.

The Maryland Academy of Sciences, founded in 1792, and the oldest body of its kind in the United States, has conferred upon the Prime Minister, Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, honorary membership of the Academy in recognition of his services to the cause of peace.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

FRANKLIN ARCTIC EXPEDITION.

SECRET REVEALED AFTER EIGHTY-THREE YEARS.

[REUTER'S AMERICAN SERVICE.]

Fort McMurray (Alberta), Sept. 13.

The tragic fate of the Franklin Arctic expedition, when Sir John Franklin was lost 83 years ago, is now reconstructable from discoveries of relics made by Major Burwash, Canadian Government explorer, according to Major Burwash's pilot, Gilbert.

There is evidence that some of the adventurers died of scurvy, and others starved to death.

Several graves, arranged in an orderly fashion, were found, indicating that the men died one by one, and were buried by their companions.

Bones and skeletons were discovered in rocky cairns, also a jacket, a pair of bearskin trousers, and tent coverings.

During the fight the remains of the derelict ship were seen.

SEÑOR IRIGOYEN ARRESTED.

[REUTER'S AMERICAN SERVICE.]

New York, Sept. 13.

A message from Buenos Aires states it has been officially announced that Señor Irigoyen has been arrested.

He will not be allowed to leave Argentina. He is still on board a cruiser lying just outside the harbour.

EASTERN NEWS IN BRIEF

PARS FROM EVERYWHERE.

The association of Chinese subscribers of the Shanghai Telephone Co. has registered a further protest with the Ministry of Communications, over the sale of the properties and the grant of a franchise. They demand that steps should be taken to bring ownership into Chinese hands.

According to information reaching the Japanese Consulate in Shanghai, cases of bubonic plague occurred in Nonan district along the Taonan-Tsitsikhar Railway line at the end of August. Already 60 persons are said to have died from the disease, while over 40 are still suffering from the terrible pestilence.

Claiming that parents nowadays were too harsh with their children, Shen Mingho, a 15-year old girl, committed suicide at her home, 84, Hankow Road, Shanghai, last week, by swallowing a dose of poison. At an inquest held at the Mortuary, Mr. Zee Mai, the Procurator, returned a verdict of suicide.

On August 19 the marriage was conducted at St. Mary's Church, Henley-on-Thames, by the Rev. Norman Kent, uncle of the bridegroom, assisted by the Rev. Canon Dams, Rector of Henley, of Lionel Horace, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. B. Kent, of Tientsin, to Mrs. Longworth, only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Longworth Wainwright, of Henley-on-Thames.

A year's imprisonment was meted out last week by Judge Sun, in the Special District Court, to F. Shiehlismoff, to a Russian watchman, formerly employed at the Foreign Y.M.C.A., who is alleged to have kicked a coolie and caused him serious injury. The alleged assault took place in Burkill Road some months ago when defendant was awakened by complainant knocking.

Appropos of the report that the Waichinopu has been requested by Chinese merchants to lodge a strong protest with the Dutch Government against the proposed increase in "wharfage dues" on Chinese landing in the Dutch East Indies from next year, the Chinese Press says that the Ministry has instructed the Chinese Consul-General in Java to take up the matter with the authorities concerned.

This interesting paragraph appears in the Chinese Press in Shanghai, as unscrupulous people usually plant opium poppies in this season, an order has been issued by the Administrative Yuan, threatening to deal severely with those ignoring the Government's order prohibiting the plantation of opium poppies and instructing the various district and provincial governments to see that the order is obeyed by the people.

U.S. VICE-PRESIDENT ATTACKED.

ALLEGED USE OF INFLUENCE FOR ALCOHOL PERMITS.

[UNITED PRESS.]

Washington, Sept. 8.—Major Maurice Campbell, former prohibition administrator for New York who retained his post for an unprecedented long period before his recent resignation, in the first of a series of interviews revealing his troubles as administrator said today that Vice-President Charles Curtis, while still a Senator, used his influence to have several alcohol permits granted.

The full revelations are expected to implicate a considerable number of men now or formerly in high federal office. Upon receipt of news of Major Campbell's charge to-day, the Vice-President issued a formal statement in which he denied that he had ever exerted pressure to bring about granting of alcohol permits.

SAN FRANCISCO PETES BRITISH CRUISERS.

[UNITED PRESS.]

San Francisco, Sept. 8.—The British cruisers Despatch and Dauntless arrived here to-day. They will remain in San Francisco Bay, keeping "open house" and receiving Bay District hospitality naval, military and civilian, until September 15.

GERMAN PRESS AND "LE JOURNAL."

POLAND FEARS SAID TO BE MYTHICAL.

Berlin, Sept. 8.—The Berlin Press bitterly comments on the attempts of certain French papers and especially Le Journal to arouse distrust against the foreign political aims of the German Government and nation in connection with the present wild demonstrations of Polish nationalism which were brought about by a rather undiplomatic speech made some time ago by Dr. Treviranus before a nationalist association in East Prussia.

It is pointed out that similar and vastly more aggressive speeches against Germany have been and are still being made in Poland as well as in France by leading politicians and responsible officials before nationalist associations without the German Government and nation going to the length of protesting or demonstrating against them because in Germany the feeling prevails that that less said about such things the better for the nations concerned as usually only the extremists profits from the stirring up of trouble to the detriment of all those working for better understanding and peaceful co-operation and in Germany at least forming the vast majority of the nation.

Furthermore it is pointed out that weeks ago the German Government issued a clear statement disassociating itself from the contents of the speech made by Dr. Treviranus, the Cabinet declaring emphatically that the direction of foreign affairs was in the hands of the Chancellor and the Foreign Minister only while what other members of the Cabinet might occasionally say in the election campaign on foreign policy must be regarded as merely their private opinion.

Germany Not So Foolish.

As regards the allegation of Le Journal to the effect that the ultra-nationalist National-Socialist Party headed by Herr Hitler is being supported and financed by Big Business it is recalled that on August 17 last, the German Federation of Industries issued a very important manifesto to the electorate and especially its own members by which all hope of the German National People's Party headed by Herr Hugenberg and the National-Socialist Party headed by Herr Hitler of getting support from Big Business was destroyed.

The manifesto recommended to its affiliated bodies and its individual members to assist and vote for such parties only which recognize the Republican constitution which those two parties are working hard to overthrow. Finally the papers ask Le Journal whether it really believes that any serious person in Germany could be so foolish as to dream of a German military attack on Poland which would immediately draw in France and under the existing state of armaments would lead to the immediate defeat and destruction of the German Reich. Besides, it is regarded as rather characteristic that this attack by the French paper and Polish demonstrators is being made at the moment when the French Foreign Minister, M. Briand, is speaking in Geneva in favour of a Pan-European Federation.

SHANTUNG'S LOVE FOR GERMANY.

GOVERNOR WHO PRAYED FOR A GERMAN VICTORY.

Berlin, Sept. 8.—The press comments at length on the latest volume of the American war documents officially designated "The United States Foreign Relations in 1918" in which much space is devoted to Far Eastern relations.

In this connection the editors have reprinted a sentence from a report of the American Minister to Peking Dr. P. S. Reisch, dated June 29, which declares that the then governor of Shantung told the American Minister: "In our province the people pray for a victory of the German arms," a sentence which the Berlin newspapers feature as evidence of the deep-rooted Sino-German sympathies.

NEW AUDITOR FOR HONG KONG.

SUCCESSOR TO MR. H. R. PHELIPS.

It is notified in the Gazette that the Secretary of State for the Colonies has, on the recommendation of the Director of Colonial Audit, London, approved of the appointment of Mr. Percival Lorimer Collisson, O.B.E., Auditor of the Uganda Protectorate, to be Auditor of Hong Kong in succession to Mr. H. R. Phelps, retired. The appointment is to date from August 28.

Mr. P. L. Collisson, O.B.E. (Military), is 47 years of age and was educated at Westminster and King's College, London. In 1901 he was appointed examiner of the E. and A. Department. In 1906, he served in the Colonial Audit Branch, and in the following year he was examiner of accounts, O.R.C. In January, 1908, he rejoined the Colonial Audit Branch.

In 1914, he became 2nd Class Clerk of Colonial Audit, and in 1918 he was Military Auditor with the East Africa Expeditionary Force, being twice mentioned in despatches. He became Senior Assistant Auditor to the East Africa Protectorate in 1919, Acting Auditor in 1920, and in 1922 was appointed Auditor in Fiji. He has been Auditor in Uganda since 1927.

NEW AUTHORITY FOR COLONIAL TREASURER.

A draft of an Ordinance to incorporate the Colonial Treasurer appears in the Government Gazette. The objects and reasons given are as follows:—

The object of this Ordinance is to incorporate the Colonial Treasurer. From time to time the Government has occasion to take securities in the Colony. The practice has been to take such securities in the name of the Governor, for and on behalf of the Government. In cases where an equitable mortgage can be accepted this practice is unobjectionable. There have been many cases where a legal mortgage has been preferred, and similar cases in the future must be contemplated. The taking of legal mortgages, with the advantages incidental thereto, has rendered necessary the giving of powers of attorney by former Governors, and the execution of deeds, and other instruments, out of the Colony, with consequential correspondence and delays. The inconvenience of such practice, and the need for legislation on the lines of this Ordinance have become abundantly clear. It is considered that the Colonial Treasurer should hold and deal with securities and other property taken for and on account of the Hong Kong Government.

JAPANESE CONSULAR
OFFICIAL KILLED.TRAGIC ENDING TO FARE-WELL DINNER PARTY.

What at first was a happy gathering of friends at the Tokyo Hotel ended tragically early on Sunday morning when Mr. K. Kitazawa, one of the chancellors attached to the Japanese Consulate, lost his life by falling from the second floor verandah to the street below.

No official details of the sad affair were available up to a late hour last night, but our representative was informed by the manager of the Hotel that Mr. Kitazawa was the guest of honour at a farewell dinner party which sat down to the meal at about 7.30 p.m. on Saturday.

Everything went along happily until a little after midnight, when the deceased got up to go to the verandah "for a little air." What happened there is not known, but it was stated that Mr. Kitazawa stepped into the open accidentally and fell over. He was rushed to the Government Civil Hospital, where he succumbed to his injuries about three hours later.

One feature which makes the case all the more sad is the fact that Mr. Kitazawa was due to leave for Japan very shortly on holiday. He was a very popular member of the Japanese community, and was only 26 years of age. He has no relatives here, but it is understood Mrs. Kitazawa left only a few days previously for Japan, where he had planned to join her.

NEW VIRUS FOR RAT DESTRUCTION.MR. LO'S QUESTIONS FOR THE SANITARY BOARD.

At to-morrow's meeting of the Sanitary Board, Mr. M. K. Lo, pursuant to notice, will ask the following questions:

(1) Has the attention of the Head of the Sanitary Department been drawn to a recent announcement in the local Press to the effect that the Pasteur Institute in Paris has discovered a new virus known as "bacillus typhi murium," which, it is claimed, will effectively destroy rats but is innocuous to human beings, domestic animals, game or poultry?

(2) Will the Head of the Sanitary Department obtain a supply of this poison as soon as possible with the view of using the same locally and testing its efficacy?

(3) If the answer to the above question should be in the affirmative will the Head of the Sanitary Department make a public announcement in due course as to the result of such test for the information of the general public?

THE KIDNAPPING OF MR.
HAUSKE.

[TO THE EDITOR OF THE "HONG KONG DAILY PRESS."]

SIR,—One reads so often in the papers about the kidnapping of foreigners that one pays too little attention to it and turns to the back page of the paper to see how the dollar is progressing. When, however, a friend and near neighbour is effected one sits up and takes notice. My German friend, Mr. Hauske, has now been released but the question one asks oneself is, are these visits to the outlying places in China necessary or advisable at the present time? The taipans will reply that that is the younger men's job and that they themselves had to do the same when they were juniors. I am a fairly recent comer to China but I am told that travelling years ago was much safer than at present.

Meanwhile the British Minister is rushing from Peking to Tientsin, Nanking, Shanghai, etc., in an endeavour to find some Chinese Government to whom he can hand over British possessions and extrajurisdiction rights.

The writer hopes he will have joined the "great majority" before Hong Kong becomes the seat of a Southern Chinese Government. —Yours, etc.,

"BOLO."

CHINESE STATUS IN AUSTRALIA.

[TO THE EDITOR OF THE "HONG KONG DAILY PRESS."]

SIR,—A dispatch which appeared in the Hong Kong papers in May of this year told of the proposed legislation by the Government in Australia making it necessary for all Chinese living in that country to have their finger prints taken and to make it impossible for Chinese now living there to have their wives migrate to Australia in the future.

Believing that these laws would, if passed, be obstacles to the good feeling which I wish to see existing between the people of English speaking countries and the Chinese, and feeling, also, that the law prohibiting the future migration of wives of Chinese now living in Australia would be both unfair and conducive to immorality, I wrote to Dr. John R. Mott, chairman of the World's Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association, asking him to write a letter to the leaders of the Young Men's Christian Association in Australia in the hope that they would do what they could to prevent the passage of such laws, or, if such laws have already been passed, to do what they could to stir up interest against them, looking forward to their ultimate repeal.

Dr. Mott wrote to Mr. F. D. Trainor, National General Secretary of the Y.M.C.A. in Australia, and following this Mr. Trainor wrote me a letter in which he assures me that the thoughtful Christian people of Australia are quite antagonistic to anything that will make possible "a continuance either of humility or embarrassment to our Chinese brethren," and promising to make an exhaustive inquiry into this question and, if necessary to secure the co-operation of the local branch of the Pan-Pacific Institute.

I think that the readers of the Press will be glad to know that there are residents of the Australia such as Mr. Trainor, who wish to see justice done to Chinese living in that country, and who join with well wishers of the Chinese people in a hope that everything possible may be done to make for the best welfare of both the Chinese and the Australians.—Yours, etc.,

SHANGHAI TENANTS
REFUSE TO QUIT.RUSSIAN HOUSEBREAKERS BEATEN OFF.DETAILS OF LAST WEEK'S FRACAS.

The following account of a fight between Chinese tenants and Russian housebreakers in Shanghai, a short report of which was telegraphed last week by our Shanghai correspondent, is taken from the North China Daily News, dated September 10:—

DEMOLITION TO PROCEED TO-DAY.

A singular scene was witnessed yesterday in Tsungming Road, when the tenants of approximately seventy houses forcibly resisted the attempt of 200 Russian housebreakers to tear down the houses in order to prepare for a new building development in that area. The scene of the trouble was at the junction of Tsungming and North Szechuan Roads, a property belonging to Messrs. E. D. Sassoon & Co., Ltd., who gave notice to the tenants three months ago, expiring on September 1, that they would be required to vacate the premises. When the Russian workmen appeared on the spot yesterday morning they were resisted by the tenants, who, together with a number of agitators, made things look ugly for a while, though, fortunately, there were no serious casualties on either side. It appears that the tenants, possibly encouraged by other recent happenings of an almost similar nature in Shanghai, decided to pay no regard to the notice to quit, and directly an attempt was made to demolish the buildings, put up a resistance which led, at any rate, to the wreckers being called off for the day.

The affected area is in the block due east of the Post Office.

On the arrival of the police, shortly after they had been informed of the proceedings, strife was discontinued, and the contractor's men were called off by a representative of the company, after he had been advised by the police. During the day nothing of note occurred.

Another Attempt.

It is understood, however, that the Russians have been instructed to proceed with the demolition of the buildings this morning and that police protection will be afforded. Precautionary mobilization by four stations has been ordered and the Reserve Unit is to stand by.

The Russian workmen appeared on the scene, and, instead of entering the houses, scaled ladders, and began to demolish the roofs of about 30 houses in a single alleyway. The "wrecking crew" were marshalled in the Central District about 8 a.m., truckloads of them waiting for the word to start. Ladders and wrecking instruments were on the vans, while the 200 men waited for the signal.

The truckloads of men were taken to the scene. Each had been delegated to his duty. The laddersmen ran out their ladders, while the others, equipped with their tools, began scaling them as soon as they were in place.

First Work on the Roofs.

Almost with the appearance of the trucks, idlers in Tsungming Road gathered round, while Chinese from the alleyways poured out to join in the commotion. Within a few minutes the word was passed round that the demolition had begun.

Before the inmates of certain houses were aware of what was happening, the Russians, working fast, had removed half the roofs. Tenants, gathered in the roads and alleys, became more and more excited. Their rage increased in proportion to the number which joined them. Shouts of "strike and kill" came from the various small crowds which gathered. The Chinese seized handy missiles, which the wrecking party had dropped from the roof, and within less time than it takes to tell, the air was full of stones. Other weapons, sticks and buckets and bits of furniture and firewood flew through the air. Some of the projectiles were aimed at those on the roof, others found a mark among the crew which remained on the roads.

A Hall of Projectiles.

The who took part in the attack seized whatever weapons were available. From house-tops and the roads stones, and tiles were thrown, while below, Russians and Chinese came into personal contact. The battle waxed furious as the parties came to grips. A number of Chinese surrounded an isolated Russian, belabouring him as he struggled against them. In exasperating himself he sustained a broken wrist and several minor scratches. Several others managed to combine and hold off their opponents, who swarmed around them. Another of the out-numbered

"THESE REMANDS ARE KILLING ME."PORTUGUESE PLEADS GUILTY TO EMBEZZLEMENT.

Having pleaded guilty at a previous hearing to the charge of embezzlement of $287.80 from the Kwangtung Directory, Ricardo da Rosa, a Portuguese clerk, was brought before Mr. H. R. Butters at Central Magistracy on Saturday, when sentence was to be passed on him. He, however, explained that he had pleaded "guilty" in error at the previous hearing. He was then very "upset" and hardly knew what he did.

Da Rosa said that on careful reconsideration of the case, he could not plead "guilty" as the money which he had taken was his own and he had paper in Court to substantiate his statements.

Mr. F. X. d'Almada, jr., for the complainants, said that the accused was sent down to Hong Kong from Canton to canvass for advertisements in the directory. He collected certain payments but had failed to hand same to the firm.

The defendant submitted that the money which he had spent was his own commission. Having been successful in obtaining advertisements to the extent of about $2,500 he was entitled to 20 per cent. commission. This amount he duly collected and with it he paid his hotel bills. When that amount was exhausted, he wrote to complainant asking for more funds. In reply, the complainant wrote him to borrow $10 and leave Hong Kong, with his hotel bills unpaid.

His Worship (to Mr. d'Almada): He is pleading "not guilty."

Mr. d'Almada: So, I hear, your Worship.

When the date for the next hearing of the trial was fixed, da Rosa told his Worship that if he had to be again remanded he would prefer to go to jail. He had documents to prove that he was innocent, but stated:—"I would rather be punished now; these remands are killing me; I plead guilty."

Defendant was sentenced to three months' imprisonment, the sentence to commence from September 9.

Russians, eluded the mob by running through a house and escaping by the back door.

Except for isolated fights, nothing serious happened. The police at Hongkong Station received a call at 10.10 a.m., that Russians were engaged in removing the roofs from houses on Tsungming Road, and that the Chinese were resisting. Insp. King called on all available men, and with Det. Insp. Schmidt, hurried to the scene in motor cars.

On arrival they found the Fire Brigade there, they having been informed by a quick-witted tenant that the houses had caught fire. The Brigade could not tackle the rioters alone and stood by after sending for the rescue van, which later took some of the injured to hospital.

The police rushed the alleyways. On the appearance of the men in khaki, the tenants and their supporters gained confidence, thinking that the law was on their side, and shortly everything was quiet.

Ample Notice Given.

Three Russians and three Chinese were found with wounds, mainly in the head. Flying tiles and bricks had struck them. Of the six, one Russian and one Chinese were sent to hospital, their injuries not being serious. Another Russian made his way to the General Hospital alone. He had a broken wrist and is being detained for treatment.

It is understood that Messrs. E. D. Sassoon wrote to all chief tenants some time ago, informing them that they must evacuate their premises within three months, as the landlords wished to tear down the buildings and to erect more modern ones. The tenants, many of them in business and others having lived there for a number of years, refused to move. Restaurant keepers and tea-shop proprietors, who were established in business, also refused to vacate, intimating that they would sustain serious loss.

The landlords, it is understood, engaged a Russian contractor to demolish the premises. He, in turn, hired the 200 Russians, and obtained a P. W. D. permit to begin work. It is also understood that water, light and gas had been cut off preparatory to the beginning of the work. In certain sections light was discontinued on September 1.

A FAMILY SQUABBLE.

PARTIES BOUND OVER.

When charged with assaulting an elderly man before Mr. Whyte-Smith at Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday, a Chinese explained that the trouble arose because his younger sister was always being assaulted by her father-in-law, the complainant. He had assaulted defendant's sister on three previous occasions, but as he was her father-in-law, defendant thought that it was not wise to interfere.

On the fourth occasion, said defendant, his sister again came to him complaining of the same treatment. He proceeded to the old man's hut at Kowloon Tong, where he found him in a bad temper. They had an argument and it soon developed into a fight.

Complainant told his Worship that he had not assaulted his daughter-in-law, and that the black mark on her face was accidentally caused by a piece of wood being pushed against her eye, when he tried to take it away from her. On that occasion, he was beaten three times by his daughter-in-law.

Magistrate: It does not seem to me likely that a Chinese woman would assault her father-in-law for a little thing like that. I think I am more inclined to believe the young man's story. I am never inclined to believe a story where the other person has got an injury by being hit with the end of a pole.

Sub-Inspector Elston said that Police enquiries revealed that the married woman had no children, and her husband's parents wanted her to work as a servant at their hut. She refused and there had been much trouble between the parties. Her husband was a seafaring man.

His Worship decided to bind both complainant and defendant over in bonds of $100 each to keep the peace for one year.

GOVERNMENT AND INSURANCE.

NEW BILLS PUBLISHED.

Draft Bills, are published in the Government Gazette to amend the Fire & Marine Insurance Companies Deposit Ordinance and the Life Insurance Companies Ordinance.

The objects and reasons are given as under:—

Fire and Marine.—Section 5 of the Fire and Marine Insurance Companies Deposit Ordinance, 1917, provides for the deposit of money or securities with the Registrar of Companies; but does not provide for the continuity of that office so as effectually to pass the legal estate to successive holders of the office of the Official Trustee.

This Bill removes that difficulty by an amendment on the lines of section 3 (2) of the Trustees Ordinance, 1901, which makes, similar provision in the case of successive holders of the office of the Official Trustee.

Life.—The objects and reasons for the second Bill are identical save for the deletion of the word, "or money."

LOK MA CHAU—LOOKING BACKWARD.

MANY a man, bent upon committing some criminal offence, has been checked by the timely flourishing of a briar-pipe held in the manner of a pistol. Many an inoffensive citizen has been "held up" and robbed by a footpad whose revolver was not loaded in any one of its five or six chambers. It is always easy to be wise after the event, and the victims of such circumstances as have been described were no doubt desperately angry when—and if—the simple transparency of the fraud practised upon them became known. With a desperado or a lunatic in possession of a rifle or revolver, it is never safe to assume that the weapon is unloaded, or, if loaded, that the holder of it does not know how to use it effectively. Tense situations of this sort usually arise very suddenly, leaving the unsuspecting victim no time to make full use of his reasoning faculties. Days or weeks later, when all the facts are known and can be calmly reviewed, it is a very simple matter to show what might have been, and explain how wrong it was to have done those things that were done, and to have left undone the very things which should have been done. Circumstances alter cases, and it does not always follow that the critics who are wise after the event would have acted in similar circumstances in any other manner than did the men whose conduct they criticize.

The coroner's inquiry into the recent tragic affair at Lok Ma Chau brought to light a number of remarkable facts, together with some disquieting revelations and an interesting recommendation by the jury. In summing-up the Coroner had said it was perfectly clear that all the Indian police at the station "practically lost their heads" when the trouble started. The one man who might have done something to check the madman's murderous fury "did not appear to have made the attempt." Moreover, the coroner declared this Indian constable's evidence was "entirely unimpeachable," though "however falling he was in his duty, and however shameful his conduct," he could not be held legally responsible for the death of the unfortunate Englishwoman, who had been left alone in the station.

The coroner made no comment upon the long interval from the time police reinforcements arrived at Lok Ma Chau until the station was actually entered. He contented himself by reminding the jury that they could say something on this point if they wished—and they did. The jury was of opinion there was "undue delay" in entering the police-station after reinforcements had arrived, "but the frequent changes in command mitigate the responsibility of any particular officer." The jury also expressed the view that the Indian police inside the station "were lacking in initiative in handling the situation, which called for prompt measures." In other words, neither the European nor the Indian police concerned in this unhappy affair come out of it with any particular credit.

We have already said it is easy to be wise after the event. We have admitted that it is easy to criticize, at leisure and in perfect safety, with a mass of facts in one's possession, some of which were not and could not be known to those actually taking part in this tragic affair. Yet, making most generous allowances for those unknown quantities which complicated the problem confronting the police on that grim evening, we think most people will agree there was undue delay in entering the station. Let it be granted that, even had an entry been forced several hours earlier, there would have been no life saved. Let it be granted, also, that an earlier attempt at entry might have led to further loss of life—though in the light of evidence heard at the inquest, this now seems improbable. Granting these very important points, it still seems extraordinary that from five o'clock in the afternoon until nearly midnight no attempt was made by a large force of well-armed and (presumably) well-disciplined men to enter a building approachable simultaneously on four sides, and from which no shot appears to have been fired after half-past six. Everyone realizes that a cessation of firing does not necessarily imply that ammunition is exhausted; or that the person who had been shooting is either dead or disabled. The sudden silence may be merely a ruse, though it is unlikely that a homicidal maniac—having run amok—would be able to restrain his fearful passion completely for hours at a stretch. The Inspector-General of Police found no fault with the policy of watchful waiting adopted by his subordinate officers, and failed to see what advantage would have been gained by entering the police-station earlier than it was entered, under his direction. As things turned out, probably nothing would have been gained by an earlier entry into the station, but nobody knew that at the time. The Inspector-General did admit that if his subordinates knew that the station-guard had come out of the building at 8.30 and gone back without being fired upon by the madman, it would have been quite reasonable to rush an entry to the station. How was it that very important fact was not known to the officers in charge of operations?

The jury have recommended that at all outlying police-stations one European officer should be always in the building, even if this means augmentation of the staff. It certainly will mean that, if the Government acts upon the jury's suggestion. We believe there is a rule—either written or understood—that when one of the two European officers now appointed to New Territory stations goes out on duty, the other shall remain behind, but this is merely a theoretical plan which very frequently does not work in practice. It is often necessary for the officer remaining at the station to go out before his colleague returns—as happened at Lok Ma Chau. We were surprised, and also disappointed, to note that the jury made no reference to the practice of sending married men to what are called "outlying stations." Those who only know the New Territory as a picturesque resort for golf, racing, bathing, or motoring do not and cannot realize the weary loneliness of life for a woman in these remote and isolated police-stations. Married men should not be sent to these places, where their wives have to live under conditions which are good neither for body or mind. Cramped living quarters, without any of the physical and moral amenities and comforts which go to make life in town tolerable during tropical weather, are not suitable for women unless they are by nature most unusually patient and optimistic. The suggestion by the jury that these outlying stations should be so staffed as to allow one European officer to be always in the building would mean that three men would have to be stationed where there are now only two (one frequently having his wife with him). If this three-man plan should be adopted, it would afford an excellent opportunity for recalling all married police-officers from stations in the New Territory (where they should never have been sent), and replacing them with single men, who would find that among bachelors there would be none.

Because he just missed his train at the Bank Station Sidney Whiting, of Eastcheap, E.C., struck a 16-year-old porter who was sweeping the platform, blaming the youth because the train had gone. Whiting was fined £5 with 25 s. costs at the Mansion House, for assault. Whiting said the youth was truculent. He was not in the humour for that sort of thing, so he tried to cuff the youth, but only hit the broom. He thought that in some cases a "clip on the ear would do a lot of good." He had been a season-ticket holder on the line for 21 years and had never had any of this sort of trouble before. Sir Vansittart Bowater said it was a cowardly and unprovoked assault.

According to the Gazette, the Government intends leasing about 100,500 square feet of foreshore and seabed at Tai Wan. The upset premium is $250,575, and the annual rent $1,474.

A mongrel dog belonging to Chan Mui, 13, Reclamation Street was sent to Ma Tau Kok for observation on Friday after it had bitten Cheung Tim Yau (13) of 201, Shanghai Street.

It is notified in the Gazette that at the expiration of three months, the Seen Sea Co., Ltd., and the Wo Fat Steamship Co., Ltd., will, unless cause is shown to the contrary, be struck off the register and the companies will be dissolved.

His Excellency the Governor and Lady Peel were present at the 9.30 performance of "Caught Short" at the Queen's Theatre last evening. This film is one of the most amusing pictures shown in the Colony for a long time, and those who have not seen it—and who enjoy first-class humour—should make a point of going to the Queen's today. The picture is being shown for the last time to-night.

Squadron-Leader Bert Hinkler will shortly attempt to fly from England to Australia, around the Commonwealth, and back to England within one month. He intends commencing this flight early in September. He will be accompanied by Mr. McIntosh, who was associated with him on previous long distance flights. Together these two aviators once attempted a world's non-stop distance record, but had a forced landing at Warsaw. They will fly a tri-motor Fokker Avro 10, fitted with three Armstrong-Siddley engines, each of 220/240 h.p., similar to the monoplane used by Australian National Airways, Ltd., on the Brisbane-Sydney-Melbourne routes. This information was contained in a cable from the head office of C. C. Wakefield & Co., Ltd., to Mr. Cyril G. Westcott, the company's general manager in Australia.

Following the detention of the Japanese ship Kokusai Maru at Unalaska after it was found that there was fish on board believed to have been caught in American waters, the vessel was afterwards released without a fine. ## SHAMROCK FIFTH FAILS BY ALMOST THREE MINUTES.

HOLDS ON TENACIOUSLY TO HEELS OF DEFENDER.

ENTERPRISE CRAWLS OVER THE LINE.

[REUTER'S AMERICAN SERVICE.]

NEWPORT, Sept. 13.

The Enterprise, of America, beat the Shamrock V., of Great Britain, in the first race for the America Cup.

The yacht winning four out of seven races wins the Cup.

The times were:—

	Hrs.	Mins.	Secs.
Enterprise	4	3	50
Shamrock V.	4	5	30

Americans' Fervent Hope, That Enterprise Would Lose.

NEWPORT (R.I.), Sept. 14.

The defeat of Shamrock V. in the first race for the America Cup is regretted throughout the country.

Never in the history of international sport in America was there such a fervent hope that the United States would lose the race.

Official Times.

	Hrs.	Mins.	Secs.
Enterprise	4	3	50
Shamrock V.	4	5	30

Fog Delays Start.

The morning of the day fixed for the first race for the America Cup broke grey and overcast with a very light breeze. Fog descended later, which delayed the start 45 minutes.

Course Surrounded by all Kinds of Craft.

The course, which was policed by ships and aeroplanes of the United States Navy, was surrounded by vessels of all sizes, from the smallest yacht to ocean liners.

Enterprise Crosses Line First.

After an hour's delay, the race started at 12.55, the Enterprise crossing the line slightly ahead and increasing her lead to several lengths in the first half-hour, after which the Shamrock V. drew up until the yachts were almost bow to bow.

The American yacht's sails drew better, which enabled her to gain lead slightly after an hour's sailing. The Shamrock V. continued on the starboard tack, but she did not improve her position by 2.15, though she was holding on with bulldog tenacity to the heels of the Enterprise.

Wind Suits Defender.

The wind had now increased to eight miles an hour velocity, which seemed to suit the Enterprise better than the Shamrock V.

Halfway Enterprise Three Seconds Ahead.

The Enterprise rounded the halfway mark at 3.02, and the Shamrock V. followed at 3.05.

Shamrock Turns Beat.

Mr. Vanderbilt had difficulty in bringing the Enterprise round the mark. Shamrock V., on the other hand, turned beautifully and gained considerably, but she sailed too close to the wind.

Defender Leads by Almost Thousand Yards.

At 4 o'clock the Enterprise led by 900 yards.

With the increased wind, the Enterprise further increased her lead, and when five miles from the finish it was estimated that she was making ten knots.

The Shamrock was slightly to windward, but this gave her no advantage, as she was too far astern.

Only a Miracle Could Prevent American Victory.

As the finishing line loomed up through the September haze, the Shamrock V. was so far behind that only a miracle could prevent an American victory.

Breeze Weakens at Finish.

The spectators' vessels crowded round at the finish, but the yachts were too far apart to provide a thrill. The breeze weakened again, until the competitors were almost stationary, the Enterprise crawling over the line 2 mins. and 40 secs. ahead.

Incidents After Race.

In the scramble home yards after the Cup race, Sir Thomas Lipton's steam yacht Erin collided with a smaller yacht, which was badly scraped and slightly damaged. No one was injured, and both vessels continued on their way.

An excursion steamer carrying 800 passengers struck a coastguard boat, which sprang a leak. In this case also no one was injured.

Though Americans are confident that the Enterprise is the better boat, it may be said that the entire heart of America goes out in best wishes to Sir Thomas Lipton for his success in a final attempt to lift the America Cup.

Betting Even Money.

There is less betting on the race than in previous contests, and odds have now changed from 3 to 2 in favour of the Enterprise to even.

Contest Between Old and New.

It is a contest of old versus new, with the wooden-hulled Shamrock V., embodying all the ideas in yacht building, relying solely upon man-power; and, on the other hand, the metal-sheathed Enterprise, full of mechanical devices, the working of which occupy most of the crew below.

Nevertheless, the Shamrock V., like the Enterprise, is an unknown quantity. Her crew insist that she prefers light airs, but she made a most favourable impression, as did the Enterprise, in a fresh breeze during the final workout yesterday.

Weather Forecast.

The official weather forecast for today is cloudy with rain, and winds increasing during the day. Experts believe this will favour the challenger, as the first race is of fifteen miles to windward, and fifteen to leeward, and Shamrock V. is regarded as the faster before the wind.

Enterprise Skipper's Message to Britain.

Newport, Sept. 12. Mr. Vanderbilt, the skipper of the yacht Enterprise, which is to defend the America Cup, has issued the following message to Britain:—

"It seems fitting on the eve of the international yacht race to state that the crews of both yachts are tuned to the highest pitch and are ready for the fiercest contest. The friendliest relations exist between us, and our adversaries are the finest sportsmen we know. We are looking forward to a close, keen and hard-fought series of races."

Fifth Attempt by Sir T. Lipton.

Enormous interest is being taken on both sides of the Atlantic in to-morrow's event off Rhode Island when the first of the series of races for the America Cup will take place between Sir Thomas Lipton's yacht Shamrock V. and the Enterprise, the yacht selected by America to defend the trophy.

Sir Thomas Lipton is now 80 years old, and this will be his fifth attempt to regain for England the cup which went to America 79 years ago.

Revised Rules Govern Races.

The rules under which previous contests have taken place in American waters have somewhat handicapped earlier challengers which have crossed the Atlantic, but those governing the present series of races have been revised in a thoroughly sporting spirit, and Sir Thomas feels he has now a better chance of success than ever before. He is now in his steam yacht Erin at Newport, Rhode Island, and is one of the most popular men in America, where his sportsmanship and perseverance have earned him affectionate regard.

Conditions of the Races.

The conditions of the series of races provide they take place over a 30-mile course. On the first, third, fifth and seventh days the yachts sail 15 miles to either windward or leeward, and in the return direction according to the wind. On the intervening days the yachts will race over a triangular course. The yachts start level and there is a five and a half hours' time limit.

Experts are divided as to the chances of the rival craft, both of which have given great satisfaction on trials, but the general opinion is that Shamrock may prove the speedier of the two before the wind and the Enterprise sailing up the wind.

Mr. Heard will be at Shamrock's wheel to-morrow, and Mr. Harold Vanderbilt, one of a syndicate of American sportsmen who own the Enterprise, will be the defender's helmsman. Having undergone a final overhaul, both craft lay in Newport roads to-day admired from a distance by hundreds of other craft.

TWO YEARS' TARIFF TRUCE.

BRITISH DECISION TO RATIFY CONVENTION.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

GENEVA, Sept. 13.

At the League Assembly to-day Mr. William Graham, President of the Board of Trade, announced that Great Britain would ratify the Tariff Truce. He hoped it would be by the Autumn, or at the latest, early in 1931.

A concrete proposal was being considered, which would lead to tariff reductions, and he urged that negotiations be begun as soon as possible.

Mr. Graham further pointed out that all countries would wish to see practical results in tariff reductions, before they bound themselves for further periods.

LATER.

In announcing that Great Britain would ratify the Tariff Truce on November 1 next, Mr. Graham urged all parties to the convention to ratify by that date, since almost immediately afterwards the contracting parties could meet to determine whether sufficient ratifications had been obtained.

It would be regrettable if the ratifications were insufficient to enforce the convention, he added.

The Daily Press of March 17 published a Reuter's telegram dated Geneva, March 14, which stated:—After discussions lasting little short of a month, the International Tariff Truce Conference is moving towards a compromise, thanks to the decision of Mr. William Graham, the President of the Board of Trade, to accept a French proposal submitted as an alternative to Mr. Graham's plan for a two years' truce starting from October 1.

The French delegate proposed the continuation of the existing commercial treaties for one year, with the proviso that no new barriers should be erected within that period unless it was unavoidable and after an opportunity had been given for negotiations.

Mr. Graham assented to the proposal as the minimum which would satisfy him at the present time, and he recommended that it be applied in a liberal spirit.

Twenty-six European countries are represented at the Conference. Japan is also represented, while the Government of the United States while not participating, sent an observer.

Additional Detailed Features.

RUGBY, Sept. 13. The weather outlook for the America Cup race at Newport (Rhode Island) to-day was uncertain.

The forecast was for rain and east winds early and possibly intensifying later, when the effects of a general disturbance caused by a hurricane moving up the Atlantic coast may be experienced.

The ownership of the trophy will be decided by the winning of four out of seven races. If conditions permit, these will be held on following days, excepting Sundays, but each skipper can claim a day's rest between the races.

The starting line is nine miles south-east of Brenton Reef Light, off Newport. This course was chosen in the hope of obtaining more constant winds than off Sandy Hook, where the previous contests were held.

Each boat carries a crew of about 20, and their proportions are exceptionally close, in spite of the differences of design.

The Shamrock V.'s displacement is 133 tons, her overall length 119 feet 10 inches, her mast 162 feet, and her sail spread 7,524 feet.

The Enterprise has 123 tons displacement, her mast is 163 feet high, and her sail spread is 7,540 feet. In outfit and gear Shamrock V. follows conventional lines, and her sails are man-handled, except for one winch for the main halyard.

The Enterprise, however, is called a "clockwork" boat by reason of the innumerable mechanical contrivances she contains. All ropes and wires are taken below deck, gauges record the exact strains on all wires at her duralumin mast, which is only 18 inches in diameter at its thickest part, and is nearly a ton lighter than Shamrock V.'s mast of hollow wood.

The syndicate of millionaire owners of the Enterprise have equipped her regardless of expense, and her mast alone is stated to have cost $8,000.

The friendliest feeling exists between the contestants, and on this occasion, for the first time in the history of the race, the designers of the two yachts have not kept secret their drawings and plans, but have examined and discussed them together.

CITY OF TACOMA'S PACIFIC FLIGHT.

EIGHTY MILES AN HOUR IN DENSE FOGS.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

TOKYO, Sept. 13.

A message from Sambongi, in Aomori prefecture, states that Mr. Harold Bromley, American aviator, and his partner, Mr. Harold Getty, have announced their intention to hop off on Sunday at dawn from an improvised airfield on Samishiro beach, north-east of Furumaki.

They are attempting a non-stop trans-Pacific flight, their destination being Tacoma.

Flawless Take-off.

NAGASAKI, Sept. 14. A message from Sambongi states that Harold Bromley and Harold Getty in the City of Tacoma have started on their trans-Pacific flight.

Their take-off was flawless, and the big vermillion monoplane City of Tacoma rose from the packed sand runway after a run of 1,700 metres, and turned to the north-eastward in the direction of Cape Erimo.

Latest Reported Position.

TOKYO, Sept. 14.

The Asahi says it learns that the City of Tacoma was off Lopatka, Kamchatka, at 4 o'clock (Japan time).

However, the Government wireless station at Ochiishi reported that the monoplane's position at 3 o'clock (Japan time) was north-east of Urup Island, and that the machine was making 50 miles an hour in dense fogs.

AIRSHIP GRAF ZEPPELIN FIRED AT.

LATVIA ASKED TO EXPLAIN THE REASON.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

BERLIN, Sept. 13.

The Latvian Government has been requested to explain why and by whom shots were fired at the airship Graf Zeppelin when passing over Latvia this week in the course of a flight to Moscow and back.

LATER.

The Government is in a quandary concerning the shots fired at the airship Graf Zeppelin, as Russia and Latvia both deny that the airship was fired at over their respective territory.

Reuter's correspondent at Riga adds that the Latvian frontier guards in the district of Dagda heard shots when the airship was over Russia.

DUTCH AIR PILOTS' STRIKE.

DUTIES TO BE RESUMED ON OLD CONDITIONS.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

THE HAGUE, Sept. 13.

The air pilots' strike has ended and work is resuming on Monday on the old conditions, but a Commission will elaborate a new scheme for protecting the rights and status of the pilots.

CHINA BUYS TEN MOTH PLANES.

FOR USE ON RIVER AT SHANGHAI.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, Sept. 12.

An aircraft company has obtained orders for 100 Moth planes at a cost of £70,000.

Of the total, 83 are for the British Air Force while 10 others are destined for China. "For of the planes for China will be equipped with interchangeable boat undercarriages so that they can be used as seaplanes on the river at Shanghai."

BRUSSELS, Sept. 13.

In connection with the birth of the heir-presumptive, Prince Baudouin, a decree states that the eldest son of the Duke of Brabant (Crown Prince) will henceforth be known as the Comte de Hainaut.

FRANCO-ITALIAN "CONVERSATIONS."

"SECOND COLONIAL POWER IN THE WORLD."

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

PARIS, Sept. 13.

Appropos the Franco-Italian naval "conversations," in continuation of the London Conference, it is noteworthy that M. Dumesnil, Minister of Marine, in the course of an interview, lays stress on France's position as the "second colonial power in the world," and her need for sufficient naval forces to defend her overseas possessions, and also her own coast.

M. Dumesnil said he energetically upheld this thesis at the London Conference. Things had changed since then, and "our right is incontestable and our position is impregnable."

FRENCH NAVAL FORCES IN FAR EAST.

MEASURES TO STRENGTHEN AND IMPROVE EFFICIENCY.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

PARIS, Sept. 13.

M. Dumesnil, Minister of Marine, in an article in Le Journal, outlines the measures being taken to strengthen and improve the efficiency of the French Naval Forces in the Far East.

He has appointed Vice-Admiral Herr to the command, and is building vessels, specially designed for service in Far Eastern waters. Many of them will be able to navigate rivers.

Young officers are being appointed wherever possible.

FRENCH TROOPS IN THE SAAR BASIN.

EVACUATION FAVOURED BY LEAGUE.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

GENEVA, Sept. 12.

The Council of the League has passed a resolution in favour of the evacuation of the French troops protecting the railways in Saar territory within a maximum period of three months.

The question of evacuation has been a matter of keen Franco-German controversy.

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

RUGBY, Sept. 12.

At Geneva this afternoon, the League of Nations' Council adopted an agreement reached during private conversations between Dr. Curtius, the German Foreign Minister, and M. Briand, the French Foreign Minister, whereby within three months the last French soldier will have been withdrawn from Germany.

The Council, which was dealing with the problem of the protection of freedom of transport and transit of the Saar Railways, decided to abolish the force protecting the railways, as well as the Railway Committee. The abolition of the force is to take effect within three months.

DR. WANG INTERVIEWED.

STATEMENT TO PRESS REPRESENTATIVES.

(Wah Tai Yat Pao.)

NANKING, Sept. 14.

In the course of an interview with Press representatives, Dr. C. T. Wang, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, made the following statement:—

Rendition of Weihaiwei.

Preparations are under way to take over Weihaiwei, pending the decision of the British Government.

Boxer Indemnity.

Regarding the Boxer Indemnity, discussion is now proceeding.

Rendition of British Concession at Amoy.

Measures have been decided upon relative to the rendition of the British Concession at Amoy. The rendition will be similar to that of the British Concession at Chin-kiang.

British Extradition Counter-Proposals.

The Ministry of Foreign Affairs is considering the counter-proposals of the British Government with regard to the extradition issue.

French Minister's Visit to Nanking.

The French Minister, who is expected to visit Nanking by the end of the current month, will present his credentials to Chiang Kai Shek.

He will return to Nanking by that time.

GERMANY'S FUTURE GOVERNMENT.

ELECTIONS TO DECIDE FATE OF CONSTITUTION.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

BERLIN, Sept. 13.

Between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. on Sunday the German electorate will tackle the task of eliminating, by the proportional representation system, 4,500 candidates out of 5,000 contesting 500 seats in the Reichstag.

Poll Likely to be the Heaviest on Record.

The man in the street here has long ceased trying to master the intricate political system which has resulted in the formation of 24 parties, but he realises that Germany has reached a critical stage economically, therefore something must be done. Hence the poll is likely to be the heaviest on record.

Foreign Affairs Only a Minute Issue.

Though the National Socialists made much capital out of denouncing the Young Plan, foreign affairs are only a very minute issue of the elections, which many think will decide the fate of the present constitution, and result possibly in a reactionary Fascist Government, or Dictatorship, or even the restoration of the Monarchy.

The 24 parties may roughly be boiled down to four, namely, the National Socialists (Fascists), the Centre (Catholics), the Social Democrats, and the Communists.

It is generally estimated that the Centre will lose heavily to the Fascists, and the Social Democrats to the Communists, with the probability that by strengthening these violent opposites the new Reichstag will prove even more abortive than the last composition, which included 152 Socialists, 54 Communists, 61 Centre, 17 Bavarian People's Party.

Thirty-five Million Voters.

At least 35,000,000 Germans are expected to vote in to-morrow's general elections.

The candidates now total 9,475 male and 673 female for 510 seats, which is 900 more aspirants than in the 1928 elections, at which 28 women were returned.

Moderation v. Extremism.

The battle is between moderation and extremism, namely, the Middle parties, which support the present Brüning Government, against the Right Extremists (or National Socialists), led by General von Hitler, and the Communists. Both of these parties expect to increase their representation, but the once powerful National party is likely to sustain losses.

Political Deadlock Expected.

All indications are that the elections will produce a political deadlock, as the Middle parties are not likely to muster sufficient strength to form a coalition Government.

Herr Brüning may, however, endeavour to obtain Socialist support, or at least benevolent neutrality. The campaign passed off pretty quietly.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS' COUNCIL.

CHINA'S PROSPECT OF NON-PERMANENT SEAT.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

GENEVA, Sept. 13.

China is again this year competing for a non-permanent seat on the League of Nations Council, the election for which is to be held on Tuesday next.

It is very doubtful, however, whether she will succeed.

It is generally expected that the three vacant seats will be filled by the Irish Free State, one South American country, and one Scandinavian nation.

Central Government's Recognition of Argentina and Peru.

The Central Government is considering whether China will recognize the new Governments of Argentina and Peru.

Wellaiwei Rendition Unconditional.

The proceedings of the rendition of Weihaiwei have been fixed. It has been decided that Weihaiwei will be taken over unconditionally on the same lines as the rendition of the British Concession at Chin-kiang.

Mr. Lenox Simpson.

The British Minister has nothing to express regarding China's request for the punishment of Mr. Lenox Simpson.

SHANTUNG LEADERS FOR PEACE.

STARTLING RUMOURS FROM PEIPING.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

PEIPING, Sept. 13.

Many reports have been current here for some time, and are gaining more credence, that the Shantung Generals intend shortly to make a declaration in favour of peace, thus practically making Shantung a neutral zone, or buffer State.

These Generals are said to include Han Fu Chu, Ma Hung Kwei, Shih Yu San and Chen Tiao Yuan. They would do no more fighting and Shansi would thus be freed of the menace on the Hopei border, and would be enabled to send troops to the Lungtai and Peiping-Hankow Railway fronts.

Han Fu Chu, Ma Hung Kwei and Shih Yu San have been sworn friends for a long time, and always were considered "grey Generals."

Ma Hung Kwei's hands are tied this year owing to his father being virtually a hostage in Nanking, but regent Ma Fu Hsiang left Nanking for the front on a plea of visiting Chiang Kai Shek. He is now stated to be safe in his son's camp.

Shih Yu San is a native of Kirin and has received considerable supplies this year from Chang Hsueh Liang, and is under his influence.

By taking this step these Generals would all come under the hegemony of Mukden, thus greatly strengthening Chang Hsueh Liang, who would thus practically control Shantung and possibly Anhui as well.

SEVERE FIGHTING IN NORTH.

NANKING TROOPS ADVANCE.

There has been serious fighting along the Peiping-Hankow Railway, Nanking troops are advancing in three directions to attack Chengchow, Kaifeng and Loyang, the strongholds of the Kuomintang forces.

Yang Fu Chen's troops have arrived at Peh Shih Chen, some 75 li from Loyang, which city is defended by Sung Chih Yuan. It is reported that Tengfeng and Lushan have fallen into the hands of the Nanking troops. The Kuomintang forces at Kaifeng are erecting elaborate defensive works.

The Cantonese division under General Tsoi Ting Kai has been rushed to the Peiping-Hankow Railway front.

TRAINING GALLOPS AT HAPPY VALLEY.

WHAT THE PONIES ARE DOING.

SEVERAL NEW ARRIVALS FROM THE NORTH.

By "MORNING DEW."

With the Seventh Extra Meeting only a fortnight ahead, the ponies training at Happy Valley are being put through their paces and some interesting gallops are seen from time to time.

There will be much new blood to be seen when racing resumes. One of the most talked of animals that will figure at Happy Valley will be Pride of Tsingtau, a pony that has several records to its name. As to whether or not it will lower the colours of such tried performers as Zorhan, President Hall, Spearpoint and others, I will not at this early date try to forecast. For the present, it is sufficient to say that the pony enjoys the confidence of many of the fans. Added to this, the fact that he belongs to the "Dynasty" stables now, makes his presence all the more interesting, as the pony will undoubtedly be well looked after.

Zorhan, by the way, is in tip-top condition, and if he should start in the Aggregate Stakes, as I hear he will, he should win fairly comfortably.

By the way, I learned on good authority that President Hall will be back in time for the forthcoming meeting, but up to time of writing he has not arrived and it is feared that the animal will not have sufficient time to get into readiness by the 37th.

Adam, one of the fastest ponies at the Annual Meeting is back again and will probably figure in one of the extra meetings later in the season.

Practically half the ponies in training have much to pick up, but one or two are showing improved form.

Herodotus, who performed only indifferently during the earlier part of the year, is now showing some fine practice gallops, and I feel confident that the pony will win a race before long, no matter in what company he finds himself.

Of the others, Mike is about fifty per cent better than he was in June. Windsor Stag is also shaping nicely and Orlando is another good one worth keeping an eye on. The Tiger returned from Shanghai last week, but has not been seen in action so far.

Mr. Harriman has acquired during the summer interval, a promising looking black—Pacific Ocean—but the pony is far from promising at the present moment.

Regarding the form of the subs, I will write more in my next article. The following times were "clocked" on the course on Saturday morning:—

Ponies.	Dis- tance.	1st Qr.	2nd Qr.	3rd Qr.	4th Qr.	Last Qr.	Course.
Nationalist II.	1	48	1.32.0	2.11.0	2.45.0	34.0	Grass

HOCKEY.

RADIO SPORTS CLUB v. PUNJABIS.

"The weather was delightfully cool and favourable when the Radio Sports Club for the first time met the 'C' Company 3/15th Punjab Regiment in a hockey match on the latter's ground at Kowloon at 5.30 p.m. on Saturday. This is the first time the R.S.C. have played the Punjab Regiment who are well-known in hockey circles as a crack team in the Colony, and therefore with a result of 2 all it shows great satisfaction to the recently formed hockey team of the Colony to have obtained the above result.

The game was swift and interesting and the defence excellent on both sides. Weak points showing at the start were soon covered as the game proceeded and towards the end, in spite of failing light, it was exciting to watch. The splendid sportsmanship of both sides is noted with great satisfaction and a return match is looked for in the near future. Representatives of both sides were present in the enclosure and enjoyed the game with enthusiasm.

TAIKOO SWIMMING CLUB GALA.

ENJOYABLE AFTERNOON AT V.R.C.

The inclement weather did not prevent the Taikoo Club swimming gala being held at the Victoria Recreation Club pond yesterday afternoon and quite a large gathering assembled to contribute to the success of the gala.

The entries in all the events were quite large and keen rivalry was shown during the meet. Excellent swimming was witnessed in spite of the coldness of the water and the cold breeze blowing. The keenest interest was aroused in the sports by the younger generation, who were greatly in preponderance.

All the events were worked off smoothly and great credit is due to the organisers for the precision with which the various events were carried out.

At the conclusion of the meet, Mr. F. J. Shervell distributed a glittering collection of prizes.

Mr. D. B. Bone, presiding at the distribution, said:—"Ladies and Gentlemen, Boys and Girls, if you realised as I do to what an extent the success of this event to-day has been due to the enterprise and energy of Mr. Russell, you would understand my diffidence in now addressing you. I can only, on behalf of the Taikoo Club, thank you all very much for making this gala a success, especially when one considers the inclement weather which has made travelling rather uncomfortable. We are greatly indebted to those members who generously subscribed to the funds thereby allowing us to engage the bath of the Victoria Recreation Club, to whom we tender our best thanks for their generosity."

"Our swimming gala is now becoming an annual event, and as the years go round we trust the prosperity of the club will be such as to warrant the continuity of this most important function in the programme of the Taikoo Club. Due to reasons best known to others, our programme has been altered somewhat, but we have included all the potential swimmers in our midst, and hope they will pluck up the necessary courage to participate in the various events at this gala."

"Owing to the unsatisfactory conditions we would be very pleased to have the four young ladies again try the 'Wee Channel' swim, as I feel confident that given more suitable conditions they can all do it. We wish to thank Mr. and Mrs. Shaw for their generosity in presenting the prizes for the 'Channel' swim."

After the distribution of prizes, Mrs. Shervell was presented with a bouquet of flowers, and three hearty cheers were called for her.

FILIPINOS REGISTER FIRST WIN OF SEASON.

At Caroline Hill on Saturday, the Filipino baseball team scored their first win of the season at the expense of the Kiaoras who started favourites. The match was very evenly fought out all the sixth stanza when the Phillies broke loose and scored four runs to bring the score to 5-3 in their favour.

A crop of errors on the part of the "K" fielders in the next and last innings saw the Filipino lads score another five runs, and with seven runs in arrears, the Kiaoras made a feeble effort to wipe off the deficit and were retired after adding a solitary run to their total.

A feature of the game was the fine pitching of John Bowen. This lad has a lot of steam behind him and if he is properly taken in hand by some of the more experienced players of his Club, he should develop into a first class twirler.

SENATORS TRIUMPH OVER ATHLETICS.

New York, September 14.—Washington's Senators narrowed the gap separating them from first place in the American League to-day, when they won over the world champion Athletics at Washington by 7 to 6.

It was a hard-fought game, with tight pitching, each team getting eight hits and Philadelphia making the only error of the contest. As a result, the Athletics came down to a percentage of .667, while the Senators moved up to .625.

The Yankees, in third place, split a double-header with the Boston Red Sox, losing the first game by 5 to 3 and winning the second by 5 to 2. Their two errors in the initial game contributed to the loss, while their runs were based on but four hits. The Yankees' percentage is now .566.

At Detroit, the St. Louis Browns beat the Tigers by 9 to 6, in a game featured by considerable swatting, the Browns making 14 hits and the Tigers a dozen, with one error apiece.

Cleveland's Indians dropped a decision to the White Sox at Chicago by 5 to 2, with the Indians getting but six hits to Chicago's 10 and with the only two errors of the game being on the Indian side of the ledger.

In the National circuit, the league leaders, the Cubs, dropped a game to the Pittsburgh Pirates by 9-7, with their percentage accordingly falling off to .555, while the St. Louis Cardinals moved over the Giants' heads into the second place by winning both games of a double-header at St. Louis from the Cincinnati Reds. The first game went by 11-6, with the Cardinals making 14 hits to Cincinnati's 12 and with two errors each, while the second game saw but seven St. Louis hits and five for Cincinnati, and a 4-2 outcome. This gave the Cardinals a percentage of .533, as compared with the Giants' .559 after they lost to Brooklyn by 5-2.

The Phillies and the Braves split a double-header at Boston, the first game being all Philadelphia's, by 1 to 0, with but two Phillie hits, seven for Boston, and three errors apiece. The Braves won the second game by 2 to 1, although they got but five hits and Philadelphia made eight.

ATHLETICS INCREASE THEIR LEAD.

New York, September 14.—Once more both Athletics and Senators won to-day, while in the National League the pennant race took on fresh interest as the Brooklyn Dodgers passed the St. Louis Cardinals into the second place by beating the league-leading Cubs.

The Brooklyn triumph was a 3-0 whitewash for their Chicago rivals, who made but five hits as compared with seven for the Dodgers with an error each.

A capacity crowd saw the performance in Brooklyn. Pandemonium broke loose when Herman of the Dodgers hit a home run in the eighth inning, with Frederick ahead, giving the two tallies, which put the Dodgers well in the clear.

As a result of this game, the Brooklyn percentage went up to .565 as compared with .563 for the Giants, who also won, and .550 for the Cards, who lost to the Giants.

The Giants took their game from the Cardinals in New York by a score of 2 to 1, each team making seven hits and one error.

Playing on their own home diamond, the Philadelphia Phillies beat the Cincinnati Reds 8 to 6 in a slug-fest. The Phillies won in spite of two errors and the fact that they had but 13 hits to Cincinnati's 18.

The Athletics stretched their percentage in the American League to .669 when they took a 3-1 victory over the Tigers at Detroit to-day, although the Athletics made three errors and got only seven hits to Detroit's eight.

Washington's Senators continued their victorious march by an 8-4 defeat of the Browns in St. Louis. It was a wild and rugged game, with the Senators getting 15 hits and making two errors while the Browns made three errors and 10 hits. The Senators now have a percentage of .625, well behind the Athletics but still with a chance for the pennant.

At Cleveland, the Yankees took an 8 to 6 win in spite of the fact that they made the one error of the game, the Yanks getting 18 hits and the Indians 11. New York has a percentage of .560, which holds third place secure for the time being but removes the Yanks from championship consideration.

The White Sox cleaned up on the Boston Red Sox 10 to 1 at Chicago, getting 19 hits while the Red Sox could make but five.
